What is Woman's Beauty but Health

And the Basis of Her Health and Vigor Lies in the Careful Regulation of the Bowels.

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health. In the majority of cases the basis of health, and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels. The headaches, the lassitude, the yellow skin and the listless eyes are usually due to constipation. So many things that women do habitually conduce to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible foods because the foods are served daintily, and they do not exercise enough. But whatever the particular cause may be it is important that the condition should be corrected.

An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly, among them Mrs. C. Vance of No. 511 South Ray street, New Castle, Pa. At times she had spells of indigestion so severe that she thought she would die. Syrup Pepsin regulated her stomach and bowels, and she attributes her excellent health today to this remedy.

All the family can use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for thousands of mothers give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people, in fact, to all who by reason of age or infirmity cannot stand harsh salts.

MRS. C. A. VANCE.

Cathartics, pills or purgatives. These should always be avoided, for at best their effect is only for that day, while a genuine remedy like Syrup Pepsin acts mildly but permanently. It can be conveniently obtained at any drug store at 50 cents or $1 a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. You will find it gentle in action, pleasant in taste, and free from griping, and its tonic properties have a distinct value to women. It is the most widely-used laxative tonic in America today and thousands of families are now never without it.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. R. Caldwell, No. 419 Washington street, Monticello, N. Y. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE TO GREET I.W.W. HORDE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SACRAMENTO, March 24.—In preparation for threatened invasion of the army of the unemployed from Los Angeles, some of the pioneer residents of the city are preparing to organize a vigilance committee. In the recent disturbance here the police department proved practically valueless, and it was necessary to enroll several hundred citizens as deputy sheriffs in order to drive the unemployed from the city. These pioneers now feel that it will be wise to prepare for the coming of the marchers from the south. The confidence of the people in the police, which was never very great, has been sadly shaken since the recent trouble. As soon as the unemployed start north the enrollment of members of the vigilance committee will begin.

GOTHAM'S UNEMPLOYED.

Mayor Mitchell suggests the Establishment of Permanent Bureau in New York.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) NEW YORK, March 24.—Mayor Mitchell sent a message today to the Board of Aldermen, in which he took up the question of unemployed and restricted progress in aeronautics.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) NEW YORK, March 24.—The citizens of Williams have handled about 150 "unemployed" men, a part of Kelley's loafers from Sacramento, who arrived here this morning, in a way that seems to have been satisfactory to both the "army" and to the citizens of Williams.

Anticipating their arrival, the citizens met and fully determined that they would not feed any able-bodied man who would not work. At this meeting a committee of five citizens was appointed to meet with a committee of the "unemployed."

Upon their arrival in town about 9 o'clock in the morning the committee met and the citizens told the "unemployed" that they would have to clean the cemetery before they were given any assistance.

At first they positively refused to work until they were fed, but when they found that no food was in sight 100 of them went to work in the cemetery and after they had cleaned up the place they were given a meal.

GLYNN'S MEASURE KILLED. Democratic Governor of New York Told His Party Is Cause of Unemployment Anyway.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) ALBANY (N. Y.), March 24.—Gov. Glynn's measure intended to establish agencies for caring for the unemployed was defeated in the Assembly tonight, 67 to 63.

In opposing the bill, Republican Leader Hiramman blamed the Democratic State and national administrations for the present number of unemployed. He said the legislation they were putting into effect was upsetting business and throwing men out of work.

All of the Progressives and independents except two voted for the measure.

TANNERBAUM'S TRIAL. Witnesses Testify as New York Upon St. Alphonsus Church.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) NEW YORK, March 24.—The trial of Frank Tannebaum, the youthful leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, was begun today. Only those connected with the case were allowed in the room, including leaders and officials of the Industrial Workers of the World.

The defendant led the mob of idle men that invaded St. Alphonsus Church on the evening of March 4. They demanded a place to sleep in the church. This was refused them and in the subsequent turmoil nearly 200 men and one woman were arrested. Tannebaum is accused of participating in an act of unlawful assemblage.

In his address to the jury the prosecutor said Tannebaum, in a speech to the unemployed in Rutgers Square before the descent upon the church, told the men if they would follow him he would lead them to a church and, if food was denied them there, to a bakeshop.

Patrick Gildea, a detective, testified that when a woman interrupted the defendant to say that blood was shed when churches were entered during the French revolution, Tannebaum shouted: "Yes, that is what will happen here."

A transcript of Tannebaum's speech in Rutgers Square was read to the jury.

L.W.W. CLEAN CEMETERY. Colusa County Tells Loafers It's Only Way to Get a Meal And So They Fall To.

AIR DIVISION FOR THE ARMY.

AERO CLUB OF AMERICA URGES NEED OF AERONAUTICS.

Big Organization in New York Recommends Inquiry at Home and Abroad With View of Increasing Efficiency of Important Branch of the Service.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Aero Club of America in a letter today to Senator George E. Chamberlain, chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, urged that the committee give favorable consideration to the amendment offered by Representative William O. Sharp to the army aeronautical bill.

The amendment would authorize the Secretary of War to appoint a government commission to make a personal investigation of developments in aeronautics at home and abroad with a view to establishing an aeronautical division in connection with the United States army.

The Aero Club tonight sent telegrams to United States Senator O'Gorman and Representative John J. Fitzgerald, soliciting their influence in behalf of the amendment.

Lack of government support has restricted progress in aeronautics. The Aero Club asserted in its letter to Senator Chamberlain. The club pointed out that with the aid of aeroplanes the revenue cutter service could be better equipped for the navigation, customs, seal fishing and quarantine laws, and aid vessels in distress; while mail could be transported in regions where travel is rough and slow for land vehicles.

The Upland band will furnish music all day and a picnic luncheon will be served in the park at noon. Motorcycle races have also been arranged and in the afternoon there will be a baseball game between the Chicago and Ontario baseball teams. The celebration will conclude with a band in the evening to be given in the opera house, with music by the Blanchard-Schoneberg orchestra of Los Angeles.

POMONA BREVITIES. The Advertising Committee for the "Battle of the Clouds," to be held at the site of the new Pomona Speedway on April 3 and 4, is getting out extensive announcements of the event. Aside from Aviator Glenn Morris, Charles Willard will drive a military scout machine and Ignatius Semelouk will give thrilling air exhibitions and Miss Tiny Broadwick will leap from a Martin airplane at an altitude of 3000 feet, wearing the newly-invented safety vest. A hundred militiamen will participate with the aviators in the "battle." Electric bombs will be used.

Thursday, Rev. Thaddeus T. Creswell, who recently resigned the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, will receive the honorary degree of doctor of divinity from Occidental College. The occasion will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the institution. Four other Presbyterian ministers will also receive doctor of divinity degrees with Creswell.

The funeral services of the late Dr. J. C. Baird, who died at his home, No. 884 Williams street, Sunday night, at the age of 60 years, were held at the family home today. Rev. J. W. Lee of the San Bernardino Methodist Church, South, had charge of the ceremonies.

"HOBSON'S CHOICE." The coming election for City Trustees will be a matter of "Hobson's choice." An effort was made at a meeting of citizens to put other candidates in the field. It was found that owing to the ambiguity of the recent election legal talent was divided on the question of its advisability at the present time and the movement was abandoned.

The question of giving the Board of Trustees full power to appoint all other officers of the city was hotly contested at the polls according to reports. Many have announced their dissatisfaction with the present regime. They have presented no solution of the question, nor expressed a willingness to have the issue decided at the polls. A laconic remark was given by an office holder, who said, "Annex, disincorporate, or shut up."

FIRST JOINT MEETING. The first joint meeting of the City Council and the water company officials of this place took place in the City Hall last night, the object being to take the first steps for transferring the water plant to the municipality. It is reported that this will be consummated shortly. The State has agreed to take over its quota of bonds. The matter has been hanging fire for many years. The stock will probably bring from $7 to $9 a share. Some of the heavier stockholders have expressed a desire to turn over their holdings to the city in lieu of bonds which draw 7 percent interest.

WILL GO TO CHINA. Alfalfa Programme Will Attract Visitors from All Sections of Southern California.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) POMONA, March 24.—Many Pomona Valley people are planning to attend the "alfalfa day" celebration to be held at Chino, southeast of here, Saturday.

There will be a live stock show and Revel L. English of the Sierra Vista stock farm will exhibit some of his prize-winning horses which he entered in the State Fair. There will also be a poultry show and Prof. W. T. Clarke of the University of California will deliver a lecture on "Alfalfa Growing."

The Upland band will furnish music all day and a picnic luncheon will be served in the park at noon. Motorcycle races have also been arranged and in the afternoon there will be a baseball game between the Chicago and Ontario baseball teams. The celebration will conclude with a band in the evening to be given in the opera house, with music by the Blanchard-Schoneberg orchestra of Los Angeles.

A hundred militiamen will participate with the aviators in the "battle." Electric bombs will be used.

Thursday, Rev. Thaddeus T. Creswell, who recently resigned the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, will receive the honorary degree of doctor of divinity from Occidental College. The occasion will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the institution. Four other Presbyterian ministers will also receive doctor of divinity degrees with Creswell.

The funeral services of the late Dr. J. C. Baird, who died at his home, No. 884 Williams street, Sunday night, at the age of 60 years, were held at the family home today. Rev. J. W. Lee of the San Bernardino Methodist Church, South, had charge of the ceremonies.

"HOBSON'S CHOICE." The coming election for City Trustees will be a matter of "Hobson's choice." An effort was made at a meeting of citizens to put other candidates in the field. It was found that owing to the ambiguity of the recent election legal talent was divided on the question of its advisability at the present time and the movement was abandoned.

The question of giving the Board of Trustees full power to appoint all other officers of the city was hotly contested at the polls according to reports. Many have announced their dissatisfaction with the present regime. They have presented no solution of the question, nor expressed a willingness to have the issue decided at the polls. A laconic remark was given by an office holder, who said, "Annex, disincorporate, or shut up."

FIRST JOINT MEETING. The first joint meeting of the City Council and the water company officials of this place took place in the City Hall last night, the object being to take the first steps for transferring the water plant to the municipality. It is reported that this will be consummated shortly. The State has agreed to take over its quota of bonds. The matter has been hanging fire for many years. The stock will probably bring from $7 to $9 a share. Some of the heavier stockholders have expressed a desire to turn over their holdings to the city in lieu of bonds which draw 7 percent interest.

WILL GO TO CHINA. Alfalfa Programme Will Attract Visitors from All Sections of Southern California.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) POMONA, March 24.—Many Pomona Valley people are planning to attend the "alfalfa day" celebration to be held at Chino, southeast of here, Saturday.

There will be a live stock show and Revel L. English of the Sierra Vista stock farm will exhibit some of his prize-winning horses which he entered in the State Fair. There will also be a poultry show and Prof. W. T. Clarke of the University of California will deliver a lecture on "Alfalfa Growing."

The Upland band will furnish music all day and a picnic luncheon will be served in the park at noon. Motorcycle races have also been arranged and in the afternoon there will be a baseball game between the Chicago and Ontario baseball teams. The celebration will conclude with a band in the evening to be given in the opera house, with music by the Blanchard-Schoneberg orchestra of Los Angeles.

POMONA BREVITIES. The Advertising Committee for the "Battle of the Clouds," to be held at the site of the new Pomona Speedway on April 3 and 4, is getting out extensive announcements of the event. Aside from Aviator Glenn Morris, Charles Willard will drive a military scout machine and Ignatius Semelouk will give thrilling air exhibitions and Miss Tiny Broadwick will leap from a Martin airplane at an altitude of 3000 feet, wearing the newly-invented safety vest. A hundred militiamen will participate with the aviators in the "battle." Electric bombs will be used.

Heavy Republican Vote.

The returns from the country districts will not change the result while Crawford supporters maintain not enough returns have been received to make an accurate forecast.

CANDIDATES APPROVED.

The following Democratic candidates, approved by the party conference, were announced for nomination: For United States Senator, E. S. Johnson, Yankton; for Congress, First District, Theodore Bailey, Sioux Falls; for Congress, Second District, J. M. King, St. Lawrence; for Congress, Third District, H. L. Gandy, Waseca; for Governor, J. W. McCarty, Dordick.

In Milwaukee, the Socialists, who were short of all power two years ago following their grotesque showing of municipal control, have assembled their scattered forces and made a formidable showing in today's primaries. Emil Seidel will oppose the Socialist choice of the city of Milwaukee, while Mayor Bading has conducted the affairs of the city on the basis of the Socialist choice.

INDIANA LIQUOR ISSUE.

In view of the prevailing desperate struggle in the "wet" and "dry" forces in the Middle West, the liquor interests are greatly encouraged by their victory in Richmond, Ind., second largest city in the state, which they carried by a majority of 1,339, the "dry" carrying but two of the eight wards. State and national liquor and anti-liquor forces threw their strength into this fight, believing the result would have a direct effect upon other municipalities which will vote on the question later.

VOTE IN ILLINOIS.

In Illinois primaries were held in a few down-state precincts for circuit judges. Some scattering primaries were held in other states, but they were for minor offices and have no political significance whatever. No opportunity was afforded in today's primaries to invest a line on the attitude of the public toward the policies of the national administration.

BURKE LEADS FOR SENATE. (BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) PIERRE (S. D.) March 24.—Returns received here tonight from the state primary give Congressman Charles H. Burke a big lead in the United States Senatorial race over Senator J. Crawford, who was seeking renomination.

GETS JOB INSTEAD.

The suit of Nels Olsen, an aged miner, who asked $10,000 of the United Verde Company for injuries sustained in a personal injury suit brought by him against the Consolidated Arizona Smelting Company, appeal taken to the state supreme court, on the ground that the plaintiff should first have proceeded under the state employers' liability law, has been dismissed by the appellate court, which has decided that the right of an injured employee to sue has not been affected by the statute. Further appeal is to be taken to the United States Supreme Court.

NEW JERSEY RESULTS.

PATERSON (N. J.) March 24.—With returns coming in slowly after a day of light voting, indications tonight are that the Democratic and Republican nominees for the vacancy left by the death of Robert G. Brenner, Representative from the Seventh New Jersey Legislative District, will be respectively: James J. O'Brien and Dow H. Drucker. The Progressives and the Socialists each have one candidate, Henry A. Whitehead and Gordon Demarest. The total vote of the primary will not be known until tomorrow.

Triple Crime of Russian Is Due to Ignorance.

Injured Employees' Rights Decided by Court.

(OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) March 23.—Conscious ignorance of the law and distrust of it and of lawyers caused the triple crime of Peter Naukijas, a Russian boilermaker, near Jerome last Monday. He had invested all his savings in a small tract of land in the Verde Valley, six miles from Jerome, purchased from Guy H. Bailey, the young manager of the Jerome branch of the Bank of Arizona, and Carl H. Helm, a Jerome attorney. Some one having told him that the title to the land was not good, the Russian tried to get his money back. In an effort to assure him, Bailey and Helm took him to the property by automobile. Though the sellers had agreed to cut the price of the land from $300 to $200 an acre, an altercation started on the rear seat of the machine between Naukijas and the two sellers. Suddenly, in full view of a couple of roadside witnesses, Naukijas produced a pistol, shot Helm and then Bailey in the back of the head, then jumped from the machine, fired a third shot into the roof of his own mouth and fell dead. Bailey, who was driving, had applied the brakes at the sound of the first shot, stopping the car as his last living act. He died a few hours later in the hospital. Helm is recovering, though his wound is a dreadful one, the bullet having entered behind the right ear, coming out between the eye and ear on the left side, shattering the left eye. He is conscious and shows pain in the highest degree, but is expected to die.

STATUTE OF EMPLOYEES.

About five months ago in the local Superior Court John Uack was given $10,000 damages in a personal injury suit brought by him against the Consolidated Arizona Smelting Company. Appeal taken to the state supreme court, on the ground that the plaintiff should first have proceeded under the state employers' liability law, has been dismissed by the appellate court, which has decided that the right of an injured employee to sue has not been affected by the statute. Further appeal is to be taken to the United States Supreme Court.

Mr. Gordon Says—

Why do men who don't need to count the cost come to me for their clothes? Not that my prices are high but because my standard does not vary.

Whether they choose my Domestic Suits at $40 & $45 or the imported at $50 and higher, they get "Gordan-made" with all that that implies.

And "Gordan-made" means the best of the new woollens made in the best way, modeled on authentic and recognized Today's Styles. Not freaks or oddities—far they have no place with me either among my "young fellow" customers or the older ones.

Yes, all the Spring woollens are in! Today is a good time to see them, or if not today—why not tomorrow?

Excites Keen Interest

Reduction in Prices on Men's Clothing Comes Heralded With Joy

Los Angeles Men Very Enthusiastic Over Prospects

A few days ago The Palace Clothing Company placed on sale suits, overcoats and men's furnishings at such a ridiculously low price that the general public wondered how they could afford to sell the goods at the prices they were asking. But truth will come out, and this is the story: The Palace Clothing Company's "Torgery" at Hanford found themselves in a position where they must sell their store. The Palace Clothing Co. at 323 S. Spring street made them a ridiculously low offer, which, to their surprise, was promptly accepted. The entire stock was at once shipped to the Los Angeles store and will be offered to the public today. As you look over the items given here you will no doubt wonder how this store can sell merchandise so cheap. The answer is—the store was bought cheap. The store opens at 8 o'clock this morning and will no doubt be filled with eager purchasers of good furnishings who are well acquainted with values when they see them. Below is given a partial list of the goods purchased, the ordinary price and the price asked: Extra Special—Suits formerly priced at $20 and $25 to be closed out at $17.50. Men's Suits and Overcoats marked down one-half. Former $15 value suits, $7.50; $20 value, $10; $25 value, $12.50; $30 value, $15; $35 value, $17.50; $40 value, $20; $45 value, $22.50; $50 value, $25; $55 value, $27.50; $60 value, $30; $65 value, $32.50; $70 value, $35; $75 value, $37.50; $80 value, $40; $85 value, $42.50; $90 value, $45; $95 value, $47.50; $100 value, $50; $105 value, $52.50; $110 value, $55; $115 value, $57.50; The daily is realizing complete subservience to the whims of the Committee on the Police. It is certain that in one of the Democratic of the city will not be able to get rid of it. Then it remains to be seen whether Mr. Wilson will not be able to get rid of it. It is in order to keep out of the hands of the Committee on the Police.

Chief of Police Orders His Men to Arrest Vagrants and Police Carriers to Be Identified.
SANTA MONICA OFFICIALS A VIGOROUS POLICE.
The chief of police, Mr. J. H. Wilson, has issued orders to his men to arrest all vagrants and police carriers. He has also ordered that all police carriers be identified by a badge and a number. This is the first time that such orders have been issued by the chief of police. The orders are being enforced by the police men who are patrolling the streets of the city.

Local Coroner's Office.
SANTA MONICA, March 24.—The local coroner's office has received a report from the police that a man named John J. Griffin, who was a resident of the city, had been found dead on the street. The coroner has ordered an investigation to be made into the case. The police are trying to find out who killed Griffin and why.

Griffin's Death.
The body of John J. Griffin was found on the street of Santa Monica on the morning of March 24. The coroner has ordered an investigation to be made into the case. The police are trying to find out who killed Griffin and why. The coroner has also ordered that the body of Griffin be kept in the morgue until the investigation is complete.

MARCH 25, 1914.—[PART I.] 11

This image shows a single, vertical page of aged paper, possibly a flyleaf or endpaper from an old book. The paper is heavily discolored, appearing yellowed and stained, particularly along the edges and in the center. There are numerous creases and wrinkles throughout the sheet, suggesting it has been handled or bound in a book. A prominent dark, irregular stain runs down the center of the page, which could be ink, water damage, or a tear. The overall texture appears rough and worn.

TWO HOBO TREASURERS SKIP WITH THE FUNDS.

Army of Unemployed" Thrown Into Confusion; Warrants Today.

Records of Street Meetings Vanish, Together With Hundreds of River-Bed Exchange—Remaining "Of- fers" Do Not Explain Satisfactorily and Resignations In—Statement by Chief of Police.

The "army of the unemployed" has been thrown into confusion by the disappearance of the funds which were being used to support the movement. The chief of police, Mr. E. J. Connelley, today issued warrants for the arrest of two hobo treasurers who had been accused of skimming the funds.

The records of the street meetings, which were supposed to be a list of the names of the unemployed, have also disappeared. This has caused much confusion among the hobo army, and many of the members are now questioning the leadership of the movement.

The chief of police, Mr. Connelley, today issued warrants for the arrest of two hobo treasurers who had been accused of skimming the funds. The warrants were issued on the basis of evidence obtained from the street meetings.

The hobo army is now in a state of confusion, and many of the members are questioning the leadership of the movement. The chief of police, Mr. Connelley, today issued warrants for the arrest of two hobo treasurers who had been accused of skimming the funds.

CITY CLAIMS BIG PINE.

Will Oppose Application of Southern Sierra Company to Take the Waters for Power Purposes.

The Board of Public Service Commissioners adopted a resolution yesterday protesting against the appropriation of the waters of Big Pine Creek for power purposes by the Southern Sierra Power Company and directing the City Attorney to enter formal protest.

The resolution declares that C. O. Poole, on behalf of the Southern Sierra Company, has applied to the State for permission to take the Big Pine waters to develop power. It says that the Big Pine is one of the natural streams proposed to be utilized in the development of power by the city of Los Angeles, and that the city has already appropriated the waters of that creek.

The granting of the permit, it is declared, would mean the diversion of a great and valuable natural resource to the purposes of private speculation and gain and would interfere with the Los Angeles project.

WHAT IS A VOTER? Is a Native Daughter Over Twenty-One, Married to Foreigner, Entitled to Cast a Ballot? Is a native daughter of California, over 21 years of age, a qualified elector of this State if she is married to an Englishman? County Counsel Hill has been called upon to answer this question. He has received a letter from Mrs. W. C. Symonds of No. 1525 Gramercy place, this city, asking him to render an opinion upon the subject. Mrs. Symonds was born in Los Angeles and was married to her husband, an Englishman, in 1898. In 1907 a law was passed by Congress providing that any woman who marries a foreigner necessarily assumes the citizenship of her husband.

According to Hill, the Supreme Court has never definitely decided the question, which has been raised many times in Eastern States. County Registrar McAleer holds the opinion that a woman who is married to a foreigner is entitled to register and vote.

GRABS A PURSE SNATCHER. Woman Proves Herself a Heroine When She Runs Across Man Who Stole Her Money. It cost Miss Florence Munos a ripped sleeve yesterday to be a heroine. Her distinction rests in having identified a snatcher of purses, fought him, caught him and subdued him. The man bore marks of the fray in long strips where angry finger nails swept down both cheeks, a torn collar, ripped shirt and a condition most disheveled. Miss Munos attacked him because he had snatched her purse containing $5 when she was walking along San Pedro and Ann streets several days ago.

JOIN PROCESSION. Yesterday morning Constable Henry C. Hayes joined the merry procession. Hayes has lived in the district for many years and is well liked. He said yesterday that he would "fight to the finish." Ira W. Brynes, an attorney, will probably run. He says "Norton is a cinch to beat." Brynes is secretary of the American Club of Los Angeles and

Supervisor Recall Election Merely Formality.

That Supervisor R. H. Norton, noted one-cylinder "citizen fixit," is quite certain to be recalled by the level-headed and loyal citizens of his district is strikingly evidenced by the number of candidates who are already out campaigning for Norton's seat. Political wisecracks yesterday declared that Norton stands about one chance in a million of being retained by the voters of the Second Supervisor District.

The great mass of recall petitions containing the signature of 800 residents of Norton's district had hardly reached County Registrar McAleer's office before half a dozen candidates had flung their hats into the arena. More are expected at any hour.

The leading candidate mentioned yesterday is Earle Y. Booth, president of the National motor car agency of Los Angeles. Booth is prominently identified with many civic and fraternal organizations in this city and is popular in all circles. He has been very active for years in the Automobile Club of Southern California. As Norton has obstructed good roads work from the time he took office and Booth always has been an earnest fighter for good roads, it is easy to see just where good roads advocates will be found on recall election day. Booth's friends say he will surely run.

JOIN PROCESSION. Yesterday morning Constable Henry C. Hayes joined the merry procession. Hayes has lived in the district for many years and is well liked. He said yesterday that he would "fight to the finish." Ira W. Brynes, an attorney, will probably run. He says "Norton is a cinch to beat." Brynes is secretary of the American Club of Los Angeles and

Job Had His Troubles But How 'Bout a Goat?

Desert Homesteader Complains in Scathing Terms to Government of a Neighbor Who Harbors Headstrong Animals, Which, He Says, Eat Up All the Cactus and Sage.

The meek and lowly goat is made the subject of a scathing brochure just received at the local Land Office from R. H. Stevens, a homestead settler in San Diego county.

It seems from the indictment offered against the genus Capriornis, that an adjoining homestead did the goat and the goat did the goat. In the opinion of the indignant Stevens, this act is a distinctly unfriendly one and calculated to jeopardize the liberties and safety of the various members of the Stevens family.

There are a number of counts of the charges against the goat, as follows: "In closing his protest the writer calls attention to the fact that King William will not allow a goat within his hunting grounds."

Taking one consideration with another, the life of a goat must be an unhappy one. If he abides in the back yard, subsisting on garbage and hoop skirts, with a section of stove pipe as a chaser, he is reviled and smitten; if he breaks out of his pen and goes to the desert and gorges himself on sagebrush, and arches up his back at the sight of a toothsome morsel of spineless cactus or greasewood, to his character is reviled in communications to government officers, and there is no spot to possess himself in peace. Verily, he hath not where to place the sole of his foot, nor may he butt anywhere any butts of any sort sever.

DAILY "TUB" FOR GAS. Water from Bed of River Will Be Utilized if City Enters Into Contract to Allow It.

Gas will continue to get its daily "tub" in this city if the City Attorney approves a contract between the Board of Public Service Commissioners and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, which the former sent him yesterday for his view.

Under the new contract the corporation will be permitted to mine the river bed for three years, beginning May 24, at a monthly rental of $100.

A representative of the corporation stated before the board yesterday that the water, which is chemically unfit for human consumption, owing to contamination above the concern's pumping plant at Aliso street, is used in vast quantities in the gas aerating chambers. The gas passes from the retorts into these chambers at 2000 degrees, and not only comes out cleaned of impurities, but materially reduced in volume.

FOOLISH GIRLS THERE. Two Who Say They're High School Pupils Mix Up With Vile Hobo "Army."

Two school girls of tender age were shamelessly paraded last night at a meeting of the vile hobo "army of unemployed" at Sixth and Main streets.

While one pretty miss mounted the soap box and appealed for mistaken charity for the longer gang, a second girl, particularly attractive, with a wealth of titian hair, passed the hat. The speaker was Miss Melbie Miller, who did not give her address. The other said she was Miss Watson, but would not give her full name, because she said she did not want her part in the matter known to home folks. Both declared they are High School students.

This parade of mistaken youthful enthusiasm drew a large crowd of men and was profitable for the coffers of the "army."

Not another woman was in the nondescript crowd that clustered about them. When the meeting was over they refused an offer of money from "Capt." Washburn and hurried unescorted to a street car.

SHIRTS BLAME TO ANOTHER.

Sweeping Denial of Shooting Made by Prisoner.

Message of Forgiveness Sent by Wounded Man.

Alienists Pronounce Metcalf Hopelessly Insane.

A sweeping denial that he had shot and probably fatally wounded Gustave V. Hugo, at a meeting of the Order of Christian Mystics in the Black building Monday, was the declaration of Edgar M. Metcalf yesterday.

This statement has added considerable mystery to the tragedy, although several prominent alienists, who examined the accused man, pronounce him hopelessly insane.

Speaking in a perfectly lucid manner, Metcalf calmly placed the blame for the shooting on another member of the order, declaring that he would issue a statement with facts when the proper time arrives.

Calling himself an undesirable stranger in their flock and at no time hesitating to collect his thoughts, Metcalf emphatically denied any knowledge of the crime, other than that he was a witness.

He admitted having a revolver in his possession during the noonday meeting, but says the trigger was not pulled by him. The blame placed on him is for the purpose of shielding another, according to his statement, and will all come out in time.

Metcalf denies having made any statement as to why Hugo was shot, following his arrest, asserting the whole affair to be of manufactured origin.

SHOW NO HATRED.

Members of the "Mystic Order" brand Metcalf insane and term his accusations as nothing more than complete proof that the man is mentally incompetent. There is no hatred in the hearts of the followers of the peculiar order on the other hand, they have a feeling of sympathy for Metcalf and are ready and willing to do everything for his protection.

Even Hugo, who is lingering between life and death in the County Hospital, with only brief spells of consciousness, has already forgiven Metcalf, and while resting on what may be his deathbed, requests that Metcalf be spared prosecution.

Speaking with Dr. Homer Curtis, head of the Christian Mystics, the victim frequently inquired about the man who attempted to assassinate him and urged that his message of forgiveness be taken to him.

Metcalf's actions in his cell in the City Jail are far from what would be expected of an insane man. His memory appears to be clear, and when he talks he does not stammer, but is quick and outspoken.

Thus far he has positively refused to engage an attorney, stating in an offhand manner that he will be able to clear himself without any outside interference.

SHIRTS BLAME.

"It is all a scheme to protect the guilty party," he said, "but in the end I will win out. To get at the bottom of this affair it will be necessary to question every one who was present at the meeting Monday. Naturally, the blame would be placed on me for I was a stranger in their midst."

On the other hand, Metcalf contradicted himself on one point when he admitted that he had a grievance against Hugo, because of a woman. He said she is a member of the "Mystic" circle and middle-aged. When asked the name of the woman, Metcalf responded, "I have forgotten it."

Dr. Curtis, accompanied by Attorney C. A. Stice, talked with the prisoner for half an hour yesterday and when they departed it was the general understanding that Stice was to take care of the defense.

Later it developed that Stice had not been retained by Metcalf, but that the accused man said he would send for the lawyer if he needed him. Stice is the attorney for the order and is also a member. Sunday Metcalf attended Stice's class at the services.

According to Dr. Curtis as well as Stice, the members of the Christian Mystics believed Metcalf to be an insane man from the first time he visited the rooms in the Black building. Their theory was based on the man's generosity for on one occasion he placed a $20 gold piece in the collection plate and again made the same donation to the box in the rear of the room.

EYEWITNESS.

Dr. Rockwell R. Robinson, a dentist, who says he witnessed the shooting, told that the only eyewitness of the shooting.

The dentist says that Metcalf entered the room of worship while one of the women was making an address and that he moved a chair from the rear of the room and placed it in the aisle from Hugo. A few minutes later, according to Dr. Robinson, Metcalf reached into his pocket, produced a revolver and fired directly at Hugo.

When informed of this Metcalf merely smiled and said, "It was so?" Then came his denial that he fired the shot and the startling accusation that someone else was responsible for Hugo's condition.

The story that flowers, incense and other fragrant odors are a part of the noonday ceremony was explained by Dr. Robinson, who said that the celebration of a wedding of two of the members was in progress the night previous and the room was decorated with flowers and amylax for the occasion.

Dr. Robinson added that the idea of brilliant robes was also ridiculous and stated that the "Mind's Eye" is nothing more than the symbol of the order.

HIGHER THOUGHTS.

"There is nothing about our belief or meetings that is so mysterious," said Dr. Robinson. "Our reason for existing is that the churches cannot reach the people who seek the higher thoughts and care to go into the deeper questions of the Bible."

The meeting of the Christian Mystics went on in the usual manner yesterday, although the ceremony was not held in the same room as on the day of the tragedy because, it was stated, the rugs, stained with the blood of Hugo, had been sent to the cleaner.

Steps to bring Metcalf to account for his alleged act have not as yet been taken and he will remain an undetained prisoner in the jail until the condition of Hugo can be determined and the victim is capable of issuing a statement to the authorities.

Word of the shooting was telegraphed to Metcalf's mother, Mrs. Leslie Metcalf, who lives in Vancouver, B. C., by Dr. Curtis, and a reply is awaited. She was requested to come to Los Angeles to look after her son's welfare. Metcalf also has a brother-in-law in Montreal.

The proceeds being pocketed by the leaders.

The cost of publishing the paper was donated by a Socialist print shop with the assertion that the "army" is to pay as much of the cost as possible.

However, at nightfall none of the money gathered during the day's sales had found its way into the printer's till.

The ranks of the army were thinned yesterday when the report spread that work was to be offered everyone from the "general" down to the high private. The river camp seemed deserted until about midnight for the serving of "mulligan" and other victuals, and the street meetings yesterday afternoon were poorly attended. This is taken by the police as an indication that interest in the "army" has fallen away.

The leading spirits in the movement said yesterday that they will get ready to move when they feel that they have obtained all that Los Angeles has to offer in the way of money, food and clothing. They said that they will ask the police for further time, but this statement was met by Chief Bebeault with a declaration that they will not be tolerated after Saturday and that they will have to be on the move.

While the "army" seemed to have lapsed into inactivity for the day, various ethnic bodies and commercial organizations came to the front with statements which deprecated the demonstration of the "army." All of the statements agreed that there is no excuse in Los Angeles for any such demonstration; that there is plenty of work here for the honest man who will seek it.

"PLENTY OF WORK."

"There is no justification for this situation," said Secretary Zeehandelaar of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, yesterday. "There is plenty of work here and the demand is growing all the time. Men of all trades can find employment if they will look for it and if tradesmen are not too proud to do the work of common laborers there is more than enough to go around. I don't think it is complimentary to Los Angeles to have the erroneous impression circulated that there is a real army of unemployed here."

Another chapter of the "egg case" will come to hearing before Eschelman today with the competition of the Chinese egg headlined. The Kluge-Simmon suit Company desires a material reduction of the railroad's charge of $35 a car for the refrigeration of eggs in transit between Petaluma and this city. The case was argued at the same time it was alleged that the railroad charge had $25 for similar service between Missouri river common points and this city.

The evidence will be further amended today to show that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company will transport a car of eggs from China to this coast under refrigeration for $15.

Judgment of Lower Courts Affirmed by Highest Tribunal in Case of Horse Race Swindler.

The Supreme Court has denied the petition for a rehearing of the case of Lee Rial, found guilty of relieving G. P. Fries, a tourist from Illinois, of $5140, by means of a "fake" horse race report at Venice, in February, 1913.

Rial was tried before Superior Judge Pinlayson and sentenced to ten years in San Quentin. An appeal to the District Court of Appeal was taken and the judgment of the lower court affirmed. The action of the Supreme Court means the end of the case so far as the lower courts are concerned. Rial now is in order for him to begin his term of imprisonment.

Failed to Pay Mortgage on Land Received as Fee and It Is Sold to Satisfy This.

The Supreme Court has affirmed the judgment of the Los Angeles Superior Court in sustaining the demurrer to the complaint brought by the late Cyrus F. McNutt, as trustee of George W. McNutt sought to recover the value of the land deeded to him in trust in satisfaction of a claim for legal services. McNutt forfeited the land through a failure to meet a mortgage held by the defendant corporation.

The San Gabriel Bank held a mortgage for $5000 on the land and it was sold under foreclosure proceedings. It was purchased by the Nuvo Land Company, which is now the defendant in the case.

Glendale Water Companies To Be Valued Today.

City Has Asked State Railroad Commission to Set Price on Properties—Rapid Growth of Suburb Demands Greater Facilities. Transportation of Chinese Eggs to Be in Evidence.

In five years Glendale has outgrown its pinoles and the capacity of its water companies, which have been unable to keep pace with the municipality's growth in that time from 2000 to 5000. All the facts will be presented to President Eschelman of the State Railroad Commission today in the adjourned hearing of the application of the city of Glendale for a fixing of the valuation of the plants it desires to acquire in the creation of a municipal water system. It is the first time, so far as known, that the office of the commission have been invoked to set the value of a utility or utilities which a municipality desires to acquire.

The valuation will cover portions of the plant and water rights of the Glendale Consolidated and Miradero water companies and all chateaus of the Verdugo Flats and Reservoir, Verdugo Canyon Water, and Verdugo Springs Water companies. Action was dictated by the announced intention of the Eschelman Board of Trustees, on December 29, 1913, to enter the water-selling business due to the city's rapid growth and the financial troubles which prevent existing companies from making extensions in ratio to the growth. The commission is asked to make such orders following decisions on valuation as will expedite the acquisition of the plants or portions of plants.

DOUBLE-BARRELED.

California has two reasons to be proud of its immense crops this year. One is that the harvest in every line is exceptional, and the other that the big returns indicate a splendid increase of the acreage under cultivation.

IN GREAT LUCK.

A young man reached Los Angeles rather disgruntled because Zapata and his band had destroyed his coffee plantation, burned his houses and confiscated his cattle and provisions. He didn't seem to understand how lucky he was, as an American, to get away with his life.

A GOOD NAME.

A new battleship has been christened Oklahoma. The namesake need never be ashamed of its godmother, and we trust the State may never be ashamed of the dreadnought. Oklahoma is a State of tremendous possibilities and many fine people. Its development under Statehood has been on a splendid, rushing scale.

NO DIFFERENCE.

The British Consul has filed a report to the effect that Benton was stabbed to death in Villa's office at Juarez and not shot as the result of being court-martialed. He seems to have been as completely executed as if he had been given a lengthy trial. The result may not be the same, however, in the eyes of Great Britain.

BUYING THINGS.

Henry E. Huntington seems to get a lot of satisfaction out of his money. Rare books, paintings and letters are the special objects of his acquisition, and his collection is already one of the most wonderful in the world. In such a fashion money serves the age to find advantage because only the wealthy and the appreciative could get these treasures together with a better chance of their preservation than if they were scattered here and there with no special care taken of them. In the end such treasures usually revert to the public and this could never happen without the wealth and enthusiasm of a few collectors.

THREE ROADS TO THE SEA.

New York City does not propose to allow Montreal to take the foreign traffic of the great lakes away from her. The Canadians are working out a canal system by which the St. Lawrence and the lakes are to be united so that an ocean ship can steam from Duluth to Montreal and thence from Montreal to Liverpool.

New York proposes to make the Hudson navigable for deep-sea vessels up to Albany, the terminal of the Erie Canal, and to enlarge the canal so that the same ships can steam through it to Buffalo and thence by the lakes to Chicago.

And Chicago will turn up its municipal nose at both Montreal and New York by deepening and widening her ship canal to the Mississippi River and sending her products up that river to St. Paul or down it to New Orleans, provided Great Britain will withdraw her protest or President Wilson will disregard it and allow Chicago to take a few inches of water from the surface of Lake Michigan.

HUMAN TOOTHPICKS.

Men resemble many things. For instance a jobless I.W.W. resembles a toothpick. The New York World says:

"You take a bowl of water, ten toothpicks, a lump of sugar and a piece of soap. You can make the toothpicks, after they have been placed in the water, all run to a common center and recede again at your command without touching them."

"After the surface of the water has become still place the toothpicks on it with their ends pointing to the middle. Then take a lump of sugar and let it just touch the surface of the water in the middle. The toothpicks will immediately be attracted to it, the water rising in the sugar and creating a minute current. If a pointed piece of soap be allowed to touch the water in the middle of the bowl after the sugar has been removed the toothpicks will recede from it to the sides of the bowl."

How like the unemployed who are making a lodging-house of the bed of the late Los Angeles River. They love sugar and hate soap!

A POLITICAL GREASER.

Senor Don Miguel Cervantes Bustamante de Odrerica, the editor of El Pais, has been visiting Vera Cruz, where, as he says, "the seaweeds extend to the north and south like two coarse white arms of some gigantic athlete trying to press against him the immensity of the changing waters."

Concerning the American cruisers Des Moines and Chester he writes:

"The gray boats surge from the sea, looking like medieval horses caparisoned with heavy harness. Monstrous they disdain our smallness, and continue, immovable and some, having something eternal and definite in their powerful expression; strongly held by their anchors, while the nutshell that carries us bravely breasts the sea, rising on the crest of a wave, to be lowered in the depression of the next."

"We are so near the monsters that we can clearly distinguish the marines aboard them: blonde, white, vigorous, more than vigorous—chickens they have traits of Apollo, and they look at us with their blue eyes in which we read the racial contempt with which they have always scorned us. For them we have been and continue to be 'greasers.'"

Too bad, isn't it? Huh!

AN "ARMY" MADE UP OF UNDESIRABLE LOAFERS.
 Three or four agitators with criminal records stretching from Lawrence, Mass., to the Pacific Coast, have gathered about them a group of professional idlers who have styled themselves the "Army of the Unemployed." The police have permitted these agitators, calling themselves "generals" and "captains" and the like, and their crew to camp in the Los Angeles river bed until next Saturday when they will be expected to move on.

The policy of "watchful waiting" adopted by the police has proved adequate up to date, and there has been no occasion to regard the so-called "army" as dangerous or even menacing although it is composed of disreputable, the scourgings of cheap beer halls and the creatures of warped imagination whose terror of hard manual labor rises above their fear of the law.

There is no occasion in Los Angeles for any organization pretending to be a demonstration of an "army" of unemployed. There is no situation here that justifies any demonstration tending to show that there are more jobs than jobs. There is more work to be done now than men to do it. Any man needing it can have real work without straining his eyesight to find it.

The followers of the agitators who have created the situation, such as it is, for their own aggrandizement will not long be fooled by the blatant claims of their leaders and will soon see through their hypocrisy. They have no cause—no case. Their leaders appeal for money, clothing, food, but principally money. The agitators appeal for coin only to find that the contributors in the irregular formation around the soapbox are suspicious and demand accounting in the presence of witnesses rather than a division of spoils in the back room of a Plaza saloon.

The riff-raff which has clung to the riverbed camp in the hope of getting something for nothing has been waited into the Southwest by the one ill wind that blows nobody good. They don't want work, wouldn't work if a job was offered. Naturally, they are idlers. Disqualified by constitutional laziness and physical ailments that are the blighting evidence of unclear lives, these men would rather continue as parasites than reform themselves into producers for whom the world has a place and a living.

It is mistaken charity to encourage these men in their present state of voluntary idleness by giving them sustenance. There are so many places where charity may well be bestowed, where the ministrations of the generous may fall upon deserving ones, where helpless hands may be uplifted by the giving of needed things, but there is no excuse for sending to the tramps, thieves and hobos that are permitted to camp in idleness within the city sufficient clothing and food to make their stay pleasant and comfortable.

Those who have been beguiled into donating food and clothing are merely helping to encourage idleness, which breeds crime and disorder. It is a mistaken impulse that is behind the act of giving in this case. By helping to maintain their camp some uninformed persons have really glorified these fellows and set them up as objects of public sympathy, whereas they should be handled in a manner that shows there is no welcome nor sympathy for them here, no place for them in our society, unless they want to work and give prima facie evidence of that fact by getting out and working, instead of basking and begging.

TRUST BUSTERS DISAGREE.

There is dissension in the ranks of the trust busters. Massachusetts is up in arms against the prohibition of interlocking directorates. Henry Parkman, treasurer of the Provident Institution for Savings, and George E. Brock, president of the Home Savings Bank, both of Boston, appeared before the House Judiciary Committee and argued in behalf of exempting savings institutions from the proposed law.

Mr. Parkman said that the Boston savings banks represented many, many millions of dollars. He said that it would be a serious deprivation if men who were directors of corporations could not act as trustees of savings banks. If such a provision were incorporated into the act, savings banks could not command the gratuitous services of bankers, business men and manufacturers, as they do at present.

Congressman J. J. Mitchell, Massachusetts, who is a member of the Judiciary Committee, said he was satisfied that the mutual savings banks ought not to be included in the interlocking directorates prohibition.

Frederick P. Fish of Boston appeared as a citizen and made a general argument against all anti-trust legislation. He said that the Sherman law as interpreted by the United States Supreme Court is adequate for all conditions. He believed that interlocking directorates could be eliminated under the present law, and he said the country should be permitted to adjust itself peacefully to the existing anti-trust laws.

Percy S. Strauss of New York, representing R. H. Macy & Co., argued against insertion into the trust bill of any permission for resale price fixing. The courts rejected the plea of the manufacturers for price fixing agreements, he said, and they are now trying to regain the lost ground through legislative favors.

Officers and members of the Chicago Board of Trade declared that investigation of grain exchanges by a joint committee of members of Congress and business men selected by the President would be welcomed.

President C. H. Carter, Vice-President J. P. Griffin, and former President H. N. Sager of the Chicago board, were before the committee, all denying there was even a possibility of monopoly, and describing the present system of marketing farm products as the best that had yet been evolved.

The disposition of Congress, or rather of President Wilson acting through Congress as his agent to force the fads of the New Freedom into the laws, and regulate all business, from making breeches to roasting peanuts, in accordance with his academic theories, seems to have abated its fury, and it looks as if the public might still be permitted to sneeze upon the highways and drink gin fizzes in the seclusion of their homes without being fined and imprisoned for it.

It is possible that Col. Felix Diaz is hidden in the umbrageous shade of a neighboring tree, doing the Zacheus act.

"To Have and To Hold."

THE OLD NAME.

We are in receipt of a letter from our correspondent at Yuma, Ariz., in which he protests with some humor and much fine sentiment any change of that rejuvenated city's name.

"They want to call it Tenderfoot Gulch or some such stuff," he says, "and this would not mean anything to anybody. The name was good enough in the old days for health, wealth and prosperity. Under it we fought, first the Indians, and then the river. We were here before the railroad and the first bridge across the Colorado. We were a town when this was the gate to Arizona for the little steamboats that came up from the Gulf with their freight from San Diego. Our farms amounted to nothing then and we were glad to dredge a little gold from the river bed at Potholes and Laguna where the big dam is now. The Indians who squatted around the army post here were the only people of the place."

"That was Yuma in the long ago when men like Wilcox, Polhamus, Mead, Townsend, Godfrey and Dornington were first settling. It speaks pretty well for the health of the place that nearly all of the town's pioneers are still here. It isn't because they haven't been rich enough to get away, either. They didn't want to leave. Just because, on the California side, we have green farms where once the arrow weeds tangled in brakes the sand bars of the river's overflow, and because the Yuma Valley is studded with rich and producing farms where once it lay white and barren in the blazing sun, is no reason why the name should be changed to match our new prosperity. Under the old name we worked and waited, matured our plans and ripened our friendship, and under that name we choose to live in the new day's fulness. We don't want the railroad company to take real estate holders to task a new name onto us simply because people have laughed at Yuma for being hot or because the change in name might bring us a few more people. We don't need the kind of people who would have to be caught that way."

Pat Sullivan, the writer of this letter, has two good farms on the Arizona side of the river and business interests in the town. We have no doubt that he voices the sentiment of a majority of his people. A town has a right to its own name as long as it wishes to keep it.

WHY PUBLIC OWNERSHIP FAILS.

Evidence seems no deterrent to the orators. If so, socialism would long ago have perished through lack of advocates. The matter of "Where and Why Public Ownership Has Failed" is comprehensively summed up in a book by that title (Macmillan Company, New York), written by Yves Guyot. As the dignity of a person enhances the value of his opinion, we think that the observations of M. Guyot will carry much weight. He is the editor-in-chief of the Journal Des Economistes, president of the Societe D'Economie Politique of Paris, member of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, honorary member of the Royal Statistical Society and the Cobden Club of Great Britain, former vice-president of the Municipal Council of Paris, Deputy to the French Parliament and Minister of Public Works.

His investigation and observations cover the public ownership activity of Great Britain, the United States, Germany, Russia, France, Austria-Hungary, Italy, Denmark, Switzerland, Netherlands, New Zealand and Belgium. He sums up, as the fundamental cause for the failure of public ownership, the fact that individuals are more concerned with the success of their enterprise than are communities. "When one or more individuals," says M. Guyot, "invest their energy, their knowledge, and their capital in an industrial enterprise they must be convinced beforehand that in so doing they are responding to a demand on the part of a group of consumers having a sufficient purchasing power to repay them for their services, as well as for the products which will be offered. If the estimates of the founders of such an enterprise are correct, they will gain; if incorrect, they will lose. In either case they will bear the responsibility for their acts. Gain or loss is the inevitable consequence."

Every man who engages in business knows that one or the other must bear the result, and he is spurred to great effort and utilizes every opportunity.

On the other hand, "statesmen at the head of nations or municipalities are not necessarily responsive to the conditions just described. The undertakings in which they involve the state will not yield them any personal profit in case they succeed, nor will they be called upon to suffer any loss if they fail. The inevitable and infallible criterion of the business man is lacking in their case. By what test, then, are their motives to be construed?"

"As a rule their action is determined by the amount of personal advantage resulting for themselves; not, it is true, in the form of gain, but in the form of increase in the duration or extent of their power. They establish such and such an enterprise, because, in looking about for some bait likely to attract the public, they have found this particular one."

M. Guyot also calls attention to the political calumny that invariably attends exploiting the so-called "layday" democracy, or democratic jealousy, one of the plagues of the Roman republic, and always in evidence in an individualistic state. Men who are at the head of private enterprises are denounced as exploiting their fellow-citizens. Their profits—usually exaggerated—are quoted, and the claim is made that such moneys will be restored to the people when governments, local or national, provide everything and individuals nothing.

Instances after instance, taken from practically all countries, is cited to show how impractical is the theory that a community can conduct commercial businesses as efficiently and as profitably as individuals.

THE CLUCKING HEN.

WALT MASON IN THE TIMES.

The old gray hen has thirteen chicks, and round the yard she claws and picks, and toils the whole day long; I lean upon the garden fence, and watch that hen of little sense, whose intellect is wrong. She is the most important hen that ever in the haunts of men a waste of effort made; she thinks if she should cease her toil the whole blamed universe would spoil, its institutions fade. Yet vain and trifling is her task; she might as profitably bark and loaf throughout the year; one incubator from the store would bring forth better chicks and more than fifty hens could rear. She ought to rest her scratching legs, get down to tasks and lay some eggs, which bring the valued bucks; but, in her vain perversion, she says, "I'm durned if I will lay," and hands out foolish clucks. And many men are just the same; they play some idle, trifling game, and think they're saving wood; they hate the work that's in demand, the jobs that count they cannot stand, and all their toll's no good.

Time to Move.

[Yonkers Statesman:] "You know it is said that the proper distance between the eyes is the width of one eye," said the sweet young thing on the sofa.

"Well, move up closer, then," suggested the gentleman present.

Opening for a Return.

[Puck:] It was the beginning of their wedding trip. Inquired anxiously, "In the excitement of leaving did you say good-by to papa and mama?"

"No," he replied; "I said 'au revoir.'"

Best Use for Medicine.

[London Opinion:] Tommy: I want another box of those pills, like what I got for mother yesterday.

Druggist: Did your mother say they were good?

Tommy: No, but they just fit my ailment.

A SELFISH OLD WORLD.

"Every Fellow for Himself and the—" "Where all are selfish," says Froude in a short study on "Party Politics," "the sage is no better than the fool, and only rather more dangerous." Better then the generous fool than the selfish philosopher. As far back as we can trace the history of the race the world has tried to hide behind itself. In the tragedy of Eden—"It was the serpent you let in here," said the woman: "what power has a poor, motherless girl-child who never was a girl against the cunning and sophistry of the cleverest thing that ever wore a one-legged trouser?" "It was the woman whom thou gavest to be with me," said the man. "What chance had an innocent man, who had never seen the outside of the garden in which he was created against a tawny creature that came from goodness doesn't know where, an didn't wear enough clothes to make the alt in his fringed gown?" And the Creator said to the man, "Because you are such a fool—because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, I'll keep you so busy you'll have little time for mischief. Out of the garden and back to the dust through thorns and thistles and sweat."

"Devil Take the Hindmost."

Woe to the man or woman who depends on his friends instead of his flying feet. There are no friendships in a panic. A man may trample his own child under his terrified heels fighting his way out of a burning house.

Selfishness is shown oftener in trifles than in great events. A man who may give up his place in the lifeboat to a blind man, and go down with the ship, will let a lame woman stand up and cling to the strap on an evening trolley car rather than yield his seat when he wants to read the evening paper. He will volunteer to go down into the burning mine with a rescue party, risking his life every minute for an unconscious man whose language he cannot understand. But the same man will strangle a delicate lady who belongs to his own church and his wife's club rather than suppress the fat, black, stinking cigar with which he is poisoning the air she has to breathe.

Greatly Mean in Trifles.

It is noon in the hot city, and a man who would fight if you called him a selfish beast—which is just what he is—will step in your way to crowd a little child out of the narrow strip of shade on the hot side of the pavement, which he wants for his own comfort. He is selfishly brutal not to think that you were hurrying to preempt that cool strip of shade for yourself. Everybody despises the "end-seat hog," and justly so, because everybody wants that end seat for his own convenience.

It is a beautiful day and the stage is an easy running vehicle and the road winds through a most picturesque landscape. See the strong men and the vigorous women fight and elbow and trample for the best outside seat, the one on the box next the driver. All the weak passengers, the women who are too well bred to fight on a public stage coach, all the invalids who most sorely need the outside seats, are jammed into the inside places with everybody's hand luggage pitched in on their laps. The fellows who have selfishly preempted the outside seats might fight for them if attacked by savage Indians. But give up their comfortable seats—submit to the slightest discomfort to make them more comfortable—never.

Women First—After All.

The train is three hours late and everybody is faint for lack of breakfast. There are seven passengers on the car, one of them an invalid; a sick woman with parched lips and aching head. The train boy comes in with only six oranges left in his basket; beautiful, luscious oranges; nourishment, refreshment, sweetness in the very look of them. Who gets the first one? Do all step back to permit the sick woman to make her choice? What do you take for? Idiots. We are old travelers. Who gets the first orange? The biggest, savagest, strongest "gentleman." Who gets the last? The sixth "gentleman." Who gets along without any? The invalid lady.

Ladies, Every One of Them.

Men are very thoughtful. Or rather, they are very thoughtful for their own comfort and convenience. The preacher is very eloquent, and very original and very impressive. Seventy-five per cent of his impressive eloquence lies in his wonderfully expressive countenance. You cannot catch his power if you cannot see his speaking face. What is it hides pulpit, choir and preacher from your sight? The eyes of the woman with the mountain of hair. What is it hides the stage with its splendid setting and its dramatic tableaux from your gaze? The woman with the four-square hat and the restless hair that sweeps a restless scum fringed with a veil of feather and plume and vegetable garden, that swings back and forth in front of your eager head, shutting out the entire stage from your sight? The eyes of the woman with a combination of zoological, flower and vegetable garden perched on her straw-crowned head.

Offensive Weapons.

Who is it keeps you in a fit of nervous apprehension with a sheet of lance-pointed javelins as she tries to look five ways at once? The woman with the savage hat pins. Dare you timidly ask for the removal of the hat or the casing of the spears? Not on your life. The person with the hat pins will have you to know that she is a lady. Ay, marry, come up; and her mother was one before her. Women unselfish? It's a mighty good thing for us men that the dear Lord gave us sense enough to pass all the anti-big hat and the two-edged hat-pin legislation essential to our safety and comfort before we voted for woman suffrage. You say the women would have given us the same protecting laws when they had the authority. Hats—the kind the hair dressers make. They had the authority and power all the time. It was lovely woman who invented the tickling feather and stabbing hat pin torture, themselves. Men do not wear hats in church nor hat pins anywhere, under any circumstances. It was selfish women who did these things and who does them yet. If men do not roar at them roughly and profanely and threaten them with punishment of the law. Who sits in what Sairy Gamp calls "bragging boldness" and drives sensitive and refined men to nervous madness by making hideous faces at them while chewing grass and angs gobs of chewing gum with scrunching jaws and wolloping tongues, like unto so many cows chewing the toothsome cud. Women, selfish, self-centered, irritating, annoying, coward, ill-bred women—the selfishest things in trivial matters that ever came out of Eden. We are such a selfish race I offer wonder how we have endured each other so long and so patiently as we have.

New College Club

A new college women's club came into existence—the Union of California Women's Clubs sprang into being last Monday at Hotel Alexandria in response to a call issued by graduates of the institution. Mrs. Arthur E. H. of the class of 1901 was president; Mrs. Randolph H. president; Mrs. Caroline H. corresponding secretary; Mrs. Johnston Muma, recording secretary; and Miss Martha E. Cline, treasurer. There were eighty graduates present, all of whom enrolled as members. The membership, it is announced, will not be confined to students, any woman who has been a student at the university for being eligible. A call has been out for all University of California women to co-operate with the movement and to communicate with secretary, Miss Ellsworth at the South Flower street.

FORECAST OF TIGER STAFF.

Pitchers in Line for Regular Berths.

Seven Fingers Will Be Carried This Year.

Probable Line-up for Opening Game.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

The Venice Tigers have eleven pitchers from which to select the seven who are deemed sufficient to carry them safely along life's rocky road for the next seven months.

Therefore, as the time for trimming down their over-fructiferous squad approaches, Maier and Hogan are doing some ground and lofty figuring.

Fortunately, however, the task of reducing will not be as complex as in past seasons, as most of the men are "known quantities." That is, out of this squad of eleven, Hogan will be able to select seven men who figure to be winners in this league on their recent records.

POSSIBILITIES.

The way things are shaping up now, White, Hitt, Henley, Powell, Harkness and Klepper seem sure of qualification as regulars, while Decanniere making the seventh should be deemed the part of baseball wisdom to carry three left-handers.

This leaves Edmondson, Flaherty, Chelette and Griffin unaccounted for. None of these men has been counted out, but of the four, it is hardly likely that more than one will succeed in gaining a permanent foothold on the pay roll.

When he leaves for San Francisco Sunday night for the opening game with the Souths on Tuesday, Hogan will carry six pitchers—three right-handers and three of the other kind, as follows, to-wit: Klepper, Henley, Powell, Hitt, White and Decanniere.

"Shine" is sponsor for the statement that the condition of these men leaves nothing to be desired.

THE OPENER.

One of the southpaws probably will pitch the opener, with the choice lying between Decanniere and White.

Harkness has not been booked for the opening invasion because of a bad arm. A week later "Speck" will be in shape to shoulder his share of the work.

Hogan will take all his infielders north, meaning Horton, Leard, Litschi, Hop, McArdle and McDonnell. In the outfield will be Carlisle, Kane and Bayless, with McVicker, right field.

"Rowdy," being further advanced in training than Jack, will probably draw the opening-day assignment.

SIX INFIELDERS.

"It is my intention to carry six infielders this year," said Hogan. "By cutting the pitching staff to seven, we will be able to do this and keep within the limit. With two players as versatile as McDonnell and McArdle for utility purposes, we will be fortified for almost any emergency."

"The pitching staff is to be cut down early. The men must show something in the order to stay. Several of my leavers are in the hands of the Coast league, and this adds to their effectiveness, while I have enough others of 'known quantities' to make the reduction of my staff a comparatively simple problem."

MORLEY GATHERS OVER DAVENPORT.

Arthur Davenport and James Morley are apparently destined to make another close affair of their second match at three-cushion billiards, Morley having gained last evening a lead on the first block just equal to the margin by which he was beaten last week—five points.

Ninety-nine innings brought Morley's score to the requisite fifty, while Davenport stopped performance at forty-five. Arthur is confronted with the task of making fifty-five points to-night, Morley needing but fifty to win.

Both players made the high run of their shots in about equal fashion. The scores were tied at the twenty-fifth at sixteen points, in the forty-sixth at twenty-eight, and at twenty-nine in the fiftieth.

Again in the sixty-seventh turn the score stood at thirty-six all, and five innings later at thirty-seven for both. Both had forty-two in the eighty-sixth inning and forty-five in the ninety-third. Morley made five in the next five turns, Davenport scoring nothing.

CROSS-WELSH TO TRAIN SAME CAMP

Leach Cross and Freddie Welsh will probably be found training at the same fight camp for their bout here, April 28.

Cross wired yesterday from New York asking that Doyle's camp be reserved for him. As Welsh is already there, it will make an embarrassing complication.

Welsh prefers to train at Venice and there is some talk to the effect that the trustees may allow him to do so. If they don't, Cross will train in the early part of the afternoon at Doyle's; Welsh from 4 o'clock on.

MOULTON MAY BE OLYMPIC COACH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—A well-founded rumor around town has it that Dad Moulton, the veteran coach who has just left Stanford University after twelve years' service, will coach the American track team during the 1916 games at Berlin, which will be the next Olympiad.

Mike Murphy, the veteran university coach of the East, has passed away since the last Olympic games, where he had the honor of "putting over" a winning team. It is said that Moulton will replace Murphy.

BROOKLYN FEDS TO SHARE IN PROFITS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BALTIMORE (Md.), March 24.—The Federal League magnates ratified today the schedule of playing games prepared by a special committee and adjourned without making the schedule public beyond the opening dates, which are as follows:

Buffalo at Baltimore, April 13; Brooklyn at Pittsburgh, April 14; Chicago at Kansas City, and Indianapolis at St. Louis, April 16.

President Gilmore said that the full schedule, which provided for 154 games, will be announced in about a week.

President R. B. Ward of the Brooklyn club today disclosed a profit-sharing plan for the players of his club. Each player will have an ownership in the club proportionate to the salary he receives. Shares of common stock will be set aside for the men as a bonus, and when dividends are declared they will profit the same as the original holders of stock.

TRADE TOM SEATON FOR FOUR PLAYERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, March 24.—Four players, including Cad Coles, outfielder, were added to the roster of the Brooklyn Federal League club as part of the deal by which Tom Seaton, the former Philadelphia National al pitcher, in transfer to the Chicago Federals. This news was contained in dispatches today from Shreveport, La., the training camp of Manager Tinkers team.

Pitcher Cicotte shows how he throws the knuckle ball.

HOW CICOTTE INVENTED KNUCKLE-BALL CURVE.

ONE of the old Greek painters used to draw a single straight line in lieu of a visiting card because no one in the world could make one like it.

Pitcher Cicotte of the White Sox might throw a knuckle ball through the front window for his visiting card. For no one has ever been able to learn the art of throwing that particular curve.

The knuckle ball is as characteristic of Cicotte as a rushing, mighty wind is characteristic of a fight manager.

And Ray Schalk, the phenomenal kid catcher with the White Sox, is the only catcher who has ever been able to properly handle the knuckle ball behind the bat.

As Cicotte explains it, the knuckle ball is a curve in which the ball does not revolve, but travels "dead." That is to say, it does not turn over as it rushes through the air.

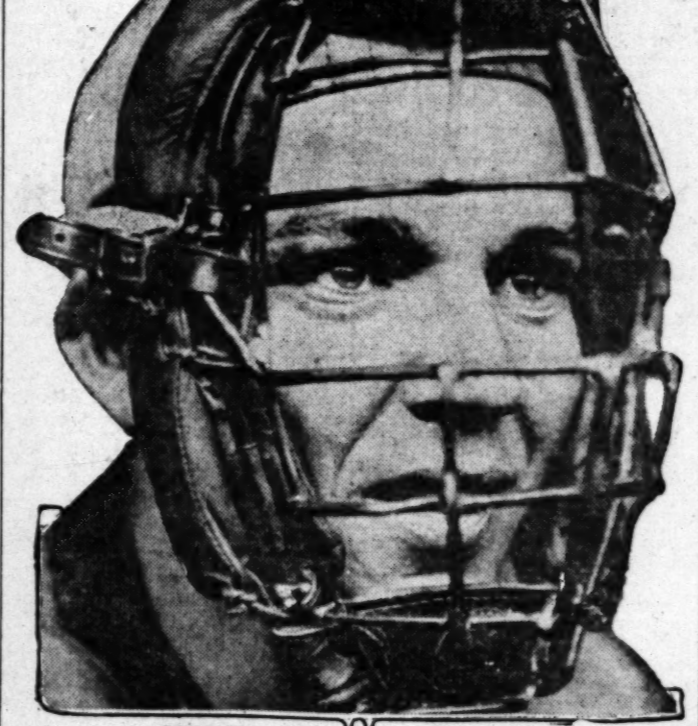

En route it demolishes all theories as to the curving of a baseball. The theory of a curving baseball is that the ball in front of it or compresses the air in front of it as it travels; then, on account of its rapid revolutions, it literally climbs the air to get over the compressed place.

According to this theory, the knuckle ball should not curve at all; but the fact is its gymnastics are wild and peculiar. It dives and kicks and plunges.

"I don't say it can't be hit," says Cicotte. "Any ball can be hit, but it is hard because you can't tell what it intends to do as you can an ordinary curve ball. It was largely on account of its peculiar breaks that I always pitch to Ray Schalk, who has learned to hold it."

"You can't really catch the darn thing at all," spoke up Schalk. "The best way to do is to knock it down."

CADY WOULDN'T JOIN FEDERALS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

HOT SPRINGS (Ark.), March 24.—Catcher Cady of the Boston American League announced tonight he had refused a Federal League offer of $12,500 a year and a bonus of $5,000 to sign with the Pittsburgh club of the new league. Cady already has signed a Boston contract.

TRACK MEET IN 1915 WILL BE BIG.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, March 24.—More than 8,000 athletes will compete in 1915 at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, according to James E. Sullivan, who was in Chicago today en route to San Francisco.

He asserted that the athletic programme at the exposition will be the most gigantic ever attempted in America, and entries from every European country and from the Orient are expected.

The international Olympic committee has recognized the exposition carnival and has sanctioned the holding of the modern pentathlon, which will be contested in America for the first time. The winner will be awarded the Olympic medal, which will be contested in America for the first time.

The results of the carnival will probably determine largely the make-up of the American team which will compete in the Olympic games at Berlin in 1916.

SOX SMEAR THE ANGELS

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

REDLANDS, March 24.—The Chicago White Sox displayed their playing ability here today, and saw for the Los Angeles Angels, the Sox won by the overwhelming score of 12 to 5.

Cap. Dillon started Jack Ryan, his one best bet, against the Sox, but the Windy City aggregation evidently liked Ryan's delivery, as they smote him in the same spot nine times and scored the same number of runs in the six innings that Jack hurled. At the end of the sixth, Cap. yanked Ryan out and shoved "Slim" Love into the game.

Love pitched for the Sox and Ray Schalk caught the entire game. The Angels managed to get five hits off this hurling duo and the same number of runs.

MIKE GIBBONS HAS EASY TIME WITH GUS CHRISTIE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HUDSON, Wis., March 24.—Two Gibbons boys won two fights from two opponents in the new fight arena here tonight. Both bouts were good and each man won in seven rounds.

Mike Gibbons won decisively from Gus Christie, taking seven rounds, with the remaining three being declared even by the newspaper men on hand.

Tommy Gibbons was the same number of rounds from Billy Miskie but the defeated man is credited with one win. Two being into the even class.

Gibbons and Christie weighed in at 160. The same was true of the semi-final men. All were said by their managers to be in a fit condition for a long go, and no excuses are offered for the results. The bouts were surprisingly clean. No complaints were heard either from the fighters or the fans, some six thousand of whom were present.

The fight started with a rush and a pair of lefts to the face by each man. Mike landed one good left before the song, but there was no shade. The next four rounds were awarded to the local man for his ability to land straight lefts. In all of the rounds Mike worked the left good. The sixth was even, Mike missing a number of swings and getting a hard left on the ear. The seventh and eighth were a shade in favor of Gibbons. The ninth was even, Christie leading and forcing Mike to the ropes. The tenth was fast and furious, both men trying for the finish. The round ended with them apart.

X-Ray Curiosity.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

After all the talk we have had about the tango, the Maxixe, the hesitation waltz and the other favorite forms of up-to-the-minute terpsichore, it now develops that Los Angeles is to have a Jardin de Danse of its own.

It is to be located at the corner of Ninth and Spring streets—in the old Armory building—and John H. Blackwood is to be the manager, as well as the proprietor, of the place.

Every time I write Blackwood's name I have thoughts of the late lamented Little Theater, and I shudder.

John always maintained that inasmuch as he had taken a shot at the heads of the local highbrows he next would aim at the feet of the populace, thereby hoping to find the financial results more profitable.

The Police Commission, at its meeting yesterday morning, awarded Blackwood a permit to conduct dances at the old Armory, and later in the day the manager confided to me that the Jardin de Danse is to be some affair—perhaps the very thing the local Rialtoites have been longing and sighing for these many days.

The building is to be remodeled under the supervision of Elmer & Son, architects. The cost of the rearrangement and the decorations will be about $10,000, so it is pretty easy to imagine what a nifty little affair the Jardin de Danse is going to be.

The dance floor will be 92x115—the largest in the city, I understand, with the exception of the Shrine Auditorium.

The decorations are to be unusually elaborate and artistic, and inasmuch as Blackwood realizes the chief feature of a dance is good music, he has engaged none other than our old college friend, William Lorraine, author of "Foggy From Paris," and a musical director of note and acknowledged worth. Lorraine will have an orchestra of something like fifteen men, and the musical programmes will reflect all that is new in popular and dance selections.

Ought to be regular music, eh?

And just to prove that Los Angeles is not one whit behind New York and the other big cities of the East in the matter of modern dancing, Blackwood proposes to hold noon-time sessions, commencing at 11:45 a. m. and continuing until 2 o'clock, for the special entertainment of the professional and business men and women of the downtown district.

In New York, where all the pretty stenographers, cashiers and cloak models dance during their luncheon period, the doctors have come out in favor of this form of diversion, claiming that it is remarkably good exercise for the business man who returns to his desk with his blood aglow with the tango, the maxixe, the one step or the Maxixe.

And so, as New York has its stamp of approval on the noon-time dance, Los Angeles is to follow the example of the big town.

Blackwood tells me that he has a six and one-half-year lease on the Armory structure, and that if at any time there is a let up in the dancing enthusiasm he can convert the big place into a bang-up skating rink over night.

With Al Levy going down in the neighborhood of the Jardin de Danse Eighth and Spring streets ought to take on the aspect of a slice of New York's own Broadway at a no very distant date.

If you care to believe Al Jolson, the funny fellow at the head of the New York Winter Garden production, "The Money Song," at the Majestic next week, it was not the high cost of living that made him take to acting for a livelihood, but, being a motorist, he says that it was the cost of gasoline that made him do it so that he could continue to run about in his runabout.

"It's a secret," says the comedian, "because I have never told anyone but my wife. However, as the thunderstorm said to old Ben Franklin, 'I'll enlighten you, if you can stand the shock!' it was this way. I was chugging up Fifth avenue, New York, one bright day some years ago, penniless and hungry, not knowing where my next drop of gasoline was coming from. Suddenly, just as I was rounding the corner in my modest little one-hung car, one of these big, butter-fifth-avenue busses bore down upon me mercilessly. I was hit between the tonneau and the carburetor, from that moment I can truthfully say I have been stage struck."

"If you're an auto hobbyist, it's a cinch that you're not indefatigable. I'll have to translate that. I mean to say that in this respect you're like the car, always tired. It's hard to discuss the tire question—just like arguing a circus. Some tires are like Kokehman's, the Finn athlete—best in the long run. Then others are like the Pittsburgh baseball team—best in the short stop. Personally, I'm looking for a little tire like the electric light—the kind that can't blow out."

"Until I had the self-starter put on my car was cranky. It used to be so bad sometimes that I had to hire a moving-picture operator to turn the handle. Even he would play out after about a thousand turns. If it hadn't been for the coming of the self-starter I would have had to get a ferryboat deck hand."

"Every morning I exercised by running about ten miles before breakfast—in the car. By that time my poor old tires are winded and I stop at the old town pump for fresh air. That's where the exercise begins—the exercise that puts dumb-bells to shame. It's so hard on one's constitution to have tubercular tires. I'll just have to get some of that new serum for them. I can see that."

All of which goes to show that Jolson is inclined to take life, and gasoline, as he finds it.

Conference.

HOWARD WON'T PICK TEAM
WITHOUT EWING'S ADVICE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BOYES SPRINGS, March 24.—Not until Del Howard has had a conference with Cal Ewing will the official line-up of the San Francisco team for the Pacific Coast League season be announced. Which means that the naming of the men who are to draw down class AA salaries will doubtless be postponed until the first of the week, instead of a decision being reached here at the training camp.

Howard now has twenty-four men in camp and he will likely have something like twenty players when the season is opened up, including himself, but just which of the boys will be slated for the tobiggan he declines to state.

"I am the manager of the club," he explained this afternoon, "and have full power to act, but at the same time I would much prefer to discuss some of the issues with Ewing before we reach a decision as to what will be done. The entire squad will be taken back to San Francisco and some official will be reached there as to the players to be retained. So far as I can see, there are none of the men who can be turned over to the California League, for they are too strong for the Modesto club. It's hard to make up your mind what to do, and I want as much time as possible before reaching a final decision on the point."

YACHTS IS BEGUN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MARBLEHEAD (Mass.) March 24.—The fitting out of another American sonder yacht fleet, three boats of which will be selected next summer for the international races at Kiel in 1915, already has begun in the shipyards of Salem Bay.

Ten or twelve boats, it is expected, will line up for the trial races which will be held here by the Eastern Yacht Club, probably during the third week in August. The international races for the second series between America and Germany, and the third to be sailed in the waters of the last-mentioned country. The series now stands four to one in favor of America.

Good Times and the Business

Ducking
Editorial

By Judge Elbert H. Gary
Chairman of the Board of Directors
United States Steel Corporation

Our editorial page has become standard. It is devoted to sane views of important questions handled by the most prominent authorities. Judge Gary, whose fingers are continually on the pulse of our nation, is perhaps better equipped than any other man to speak on matters of vital importance. He tells why our business prosperity is so frequently and seriously interrupted—why, with our great and growing wealth, our resources and superior advantages, we are not more continuously prosperous—and more WHYS.

The Great Serial the Prince of Graustark

By George Barr McCutcheon
Illustrated by R. F. Schabelitz

The preceding installments were highly amusing, but they were only preliminaries. The real fun commences in the installment to be published in this issue. The undaunted and self-satisfied Blithers is literally shaking hands with himself. He has thrown out a gilded net and to him Prince Robin of Graustark is as good as landed. He plans a wonderful ball in honor of the Prince, the novel feature of the evening to be a sparring match between two famous prize fighters. Everything is ermine and velvet in his mind—when the unlooked-for blow falls. Maud, his pride and joy, rebels and flatly refuses to meet the Prince. A "stunning" situation to the Blithers family. It leaves you impatient for the next installment.

The Invitation of the Sea
Prose Poem

By Marguerite O. B. Wilkinson

Here might be the answer to "What Are the Sad Sea Waves Saying?" An invitation to partake of its strength-giving, evil-denying, bracing gifts; an invitation for the weary toiler, for the pompous rich, for the old, for levers, for little children. Its inspiring message is like an invigorating dip in the sea.

Whether or not we believe in occultism, the weird and uncanny subject is always fascinating. We learn here that physical research has been useful to medical science, that hypnotism, crystal gazing, etc., have their value in bringing back health to victims of nervous breakdowns. Some things are also explained away that many of us have puzzled and wondered over.

The Troubles of Two Working

Story

By Helen Van Campen

There is nothing "high-brow" about this story. It's a mixture of slang and chorus-girl sauciness, but the result is so droll and entertaining that we endorse it as a chaser of the "blues."

Confessions of a Washington
Lobbyist

Lo, the Poor Indian!

When a reverend doctor, a prominent millionaire financier and others of unscrupulous character form an association for the mental and spiritual uplift of the North American Indian, every one applauds. No one thinks of looking for an Ethiopian in the woodpile, unless it be a lobbyist. Even the President has the wool drawn over his eyes. This Washington lobbyist is so sharp that his find, in the form of an innocuous looking bill about to be passed by Congress, places the association completely under his thumb. The ally he receives to keep his tongue in his cheek enables him to retire from the work of lobbying.

The Instant Service Collection System For Times Patrons An Unqualified Success.
The Times brass letter boxes, installed last week in prominent downtown office buildings for the convenience of the public desiring to send "Liner" or "Want" ads; replies to advertisements; or communications of any kind to the business or editorial departments of The Times, have already been pronounced a big success and a great convenience to patrons.

Try it, and save yourself time heretofore spent in going to, or calling up the business office.

Times "Want" Ads and Letter Boxes Are Located in 17 Buildings, as Follows:
